- The underground Communist leaders have acclaimed the Aorean war as a People's War and have urged the party workers to intensify the class struggle among the peasantry and lower middle classes in the cities and district towns.
- The workers are instructed to select special areas in various districts for mass revolutionary action against the government. The following areas have been selected as pockets for resistance: in Hooghly District, Arambagh, Mahesh, and Bara-Kamalpur; in Midnapur District, Tamluk, Contai, and Garbetha; in 24-Parganas District, Kanchrapara and Kakdwip; in Bankura District, Bishnapur; and in Burdwan District, Asansol. Very soon, mass movements will be launched simultaneously in these areas.
- The Communist Party of India (CPI) will not hold any meetings or demonstrations in support of the North Koreans; nor will it publicly collaborate with the leftist, middle-class intelligentsia in organizing any peace congress for denouncing US "agression" against Morea. To demonstrate openly would arouse the hostility of the police, and, at present, the CPI cannot afford to lose its leaders and veteran workers. To collaborate openly with middle-class intelligentsia groups would violate the Cominform's instructions regarding increased emphasis on agrarian interests.
- Lahiri, who is leading the Bengal CPI workers, has told them that the Korean Par will soon become a "orld Par and that India and Pakistan will be the theaters of war. Therefore, the Indian Communists must be prepared to seize power in the time of emorgency which may come in two or three months. The Nehru government's recruitment drive should be opposed by CPI workers, particularly among the aboriginal tribos. In the event of war approaching the borders, the smuggling of arms and ammunition will be much facilitated through Chittagong, Kakdwip, and the coastal towns in Midnapur District. Similar movement of arms through the bikkim and barjeeling area. That is the reason why these areas are selected for intensive Communist activities. Militant guerrillas will be organized by the party among the villagers.
